

CONTENTS

Preface.....	i
Introduction.....	1
1. The Problem:
State and Religion in the Muslim World	7
Is Islam the Problem?.....	9
Theological Context.....	15
Intellectual Currents in the Muslim World.....	19
The Intellectual Hegemony of Islamism.....	29
Implications of the Islamist Hegemony.....	37
Will Islamism Prevail?.....	47
2. The State and Religion:
Models of Interaction	53
The Emergence of Freedom of Conscience and Separation of Church and State.....	55
Understandings of Secularism.....	71
Five Models.....	74
Between Ideal-Types and Reality.....	83
3. Religion in Central Asia and Azerbaijan.....	87
Central Asian Islam.....	87
Law and Creed: The Development of Islamic Theology in Central Asia	89

Central Asian Sufism.....	98
Between Two Empires: Russian Rule, Ottoman Reforms, and Emergence of Secular Intelligentsia	104
Soviet Rule and its Unexpected Consequences	115
4. Independence and the Religious Question..	121
The Challenge of Statehood: Central Asia at Independence .	122
The Challenge of Radical Islam	127
Challenges and Responses	144
5. Devil in the Detail:
Specific Challenges and Responses.....	145
Tajikistan: From Power-Sharing to Growing Restrictions... 	146
Uzbekistan: From Defensive to Proactive.....	151
Azerbaijan: Sunni-Shia Relations and “Multiculturalism” ...	158
Kazakhstan and Kyrgyzstan: The Limits of Openness	164
Turkmenistan.....	173
Similarities and Differences.....	175
6. Is There a Model?	177
Embracing Secularism.....	178
The Legal Basis.....	185
Traditional vs Novel Religion	208
Residual Soviet Thinking and the Primacy of Security Structures.....	212
Doubling Down: Articulating Positive Agendas.....	219
Do Similarities a Model Make?	222

7. Central Asian Secularism

In Comparative Perspective	225
Turkey's Declining Secularism	226
Tunisia: The Domestication of Islamism?	232
The Moderate Monarchies: Jordan, Morocco, the UAE ..	239
Incomplete Secularism: Laïcité in West Africa	250
Indonesia: Democracy in a Religious State	255
Conclusion	262

8. Looking Ahead

Acknowledgments	287
About the Author	289